

Rogerian Outline – Filled Example

I. Introduction

- A. Hook or issue introduction: Social media is the primary source of news for millions of people, yet misinformation spreads rapidly, affecting public health, elections, and societal trust.
  - B. Background and context: Platforms like Facebook, Twitter, and TikTok have policies, but inconsistent enforcement allows false information to flourish. People are divided on whether platforms should intervene more aggressively.

II. Summary of Opposing View

- A. Opposing position explained fairly: Critics believe that requiring platforms to regulate misinformation risks censorship and threatens freedom of speech.
  - B. Evidence or reasoning supporting opposing view: Forcing moderation could let private companies control what information is visible, limiting public discourse.
  - C. Acknowledgment of validity: It is valid to be concerned about free speech and the power concentrated in corporate hands.

III. Statement of Common Ground

- A. Shared values or goals: Both sides agree that accurate information is important and that people should have access to truthful, reliable news.
  - B. Areas of agreement: Everyone wants to prevent harm caused by false information while protecting individual rights and societal trust.

IV. Writer's Position

- A. Thesis or claim presented respectfully: Social media platforms should regulate misinformation responsibly, balancing accuracy with freedom of speech.
  - B. Reason 1 with explanation: Misinformation on COVID-19 led to preventable deaths, showing the public harm that can result.
  - C. Reason 2 with explanation: Misinformation about elections threatens democratic integrity, creating confusion and distrust among voters.

V. Benefits to Opposing Side

- A. How the proposed solution helps both sides: Regulating misinformation reduces harm while maintaining a transparent system of checks, preserving both safety and free expression.
  - B. Practical or ethical advantages: Independent oversight and clear guidelines allow companies to act without abusing power, ensuring both safety and fairness.

VI. Conclusion

- A. Restated position: Social media platforms must take responsible action to limit misinformation while respecting freedom of speech.
  - B. Emphasis on cooperation or compromise: By creating transparent, balanced moderation policies, platforms can protect the public, support democracy, and address concerns about overreach.
