

Essay Introduction Sample

Hook Statement

Imagine a world where 'LOL' has replaced genuine laughter, where emojis convey our emotions, and where swiping right determines our romantic fate. The digital age has ushered in an era where technology is both our constant companion and mediator in human relationships. But as we navigate this brave new world, one question looms large: Are our connections becoming more genuine or more virtual? It's undeniable that our relationships with one another have undergone a profound transformation. From smartphones that keep us connected around the clock to social media platforms that bridge the gaps of physical distance, technology has become an omnipresent force in shaping

Background / Context

Overview of the main points how we interact, communicate, and form connections. This essay delves into the intricate web of technology's impact on human relationships, exploring both the positive and negative facets of this evolution. It will dissect how technology has redefined the way we meet, maintain, and sometimes even strain our bonds with others, prompting us to ponder the consequences of our increasingly digital existence on the essence of human connection.

Thesis Statement