

Persuasive Speech About Covid 19 Example

Good morning/afternoon. Today I'd like to talk about the very real and urgent threat posed by Covid-19. We have all been affected by this pandemic in some shape or form, and it's important for us to take action now before more people are put at risk.

To begin, let's look at the facts: As of today, more than 87 million people around the world have tested positive for Covid-19 and over 1.9 million have died from the virus. With numbers like these, it is clear that we must act now to limit further spread of the virus and protect our communities from its devastating effects.

What can be done? The most effective way to keep ourselves and our loved ones safe from Covid-19 is to practice social distancing, stay home when possible, wear a face mask in public spaces, and frequently wash your hands with soap and water for at least 20 seconds. These are simple behaviors that can make a big difference - if we all follow these guidelines, we can help prevent the spread of the virus.

In addition to following these personal protective measures, it is also important for us to remember that there are people in our communities who may be particularly vulnerable during this time: elderly individuals or those with existing health conditions. While everyone should do their part to protect themselves from Covid-19, these individuals may need extra support and care to keep them safe.

Finally, we must also remain informed about the ever-evolving situation of Covid-19. Check your local and state government websites for updates on the virus, as well as any restrictions or guidelines they may have in place. Staying informed is one of the most important things we can do to protect ourselves from this virus.

By taking these steps, we can help ensure our safety throughout this pandemic and be prepared for whatever comes next. Together, let's all commit to doing our part in stopping the spread of Covid-19 and keeping our communities safe! Thank you.
