

Persuasive Essay Outline For 5th Grade

I. Introduction

A. Hook/Attention Getter:

Start with an interesting anecdote or fact about the topic that will grab your reader's attention and make them want to keep reading.

B. Introduce the Topic:

Provide some brief information on the topic to set up your argument, such as background information or why the topic is important.

C. Thesis Statement:

Clearly and concisely provide your main argument in one sentence.

II. Body Paragraphs

A. First Main Point:

Provide a reason or example that supports your thesis statement, such as an expert opinion or statistic.

B. Second Main Point:

Provide a second reason or example that supports your thesis statement, such as an expert opinion or statistic.

C. Third Main Point:

Provide a third reason or example that supports your thesis statement, such as an expert opinion or statistic.

III. Conclusion

A. Reiterate Thesis Statement:

Summarize your main argument in one sentence to remind the reader of your thesis.

B. Summarize Main Points:

Briefly summarize your three main points to leave the reader with a clear understanding of why you believe what you do on the topic.

C. Call to Action/Closing Statement:

Explain why it is important to take action or think differently on the topic and provide an inspiring call to arms.

my perfect words